PRESIDENT SCHURMAN LECTURES IN

THE ASSEMBLY CHAMBER. He Outlines a Form of Government Which He Thinks Should Provide for the Islands—The Filipinos, He Says, Are Not Yet Capable of Self-Government.

ALBANY, Jan. 24. - President James G. Schurman of Cornell University, chairman of the Philippine Commission appointed by Prestdent McKinley last year, lectured on the Philippine Islands and their future in the Assembly Chamber to-night under the auspices of the Albany Historical Society. The speaker was introduced by Gov. Roosevelt. Mr. Schurman, after giving an idea the geographical location of the Archipelago and of its vast area, de-clared that there was no such thing as a Filipino nation or a Filipino people, for there were eighty-four distinct tribes and they would no more pull together in the cause of self-government than the North American Indians would have 200 years ago. Some of the people are intellectual and it is the educated people that are to help the United States in solving the problem of governing and earing for the Philippines. Mr. Schurman said that promises would not do. The Filipinos know only the promises of the Spaniards and place all white people in the same category so that deeds must show that the United States intends to give them liberty and that any one under the protection of the United States flag is safe and sure of liberty in everything. He spoke of the kind of government that they should have. At present they are absolutely incapable of self-government, but he favored a form of home rule that would bring about the desired effect. His first idea is for a central form of government sitting in Manila, to be composed of a Governor to be appointed by the President; a legislative body to be composed of two houses, the lower one to be eleved by the people owning properly or who can read and write, and the upper house to be composed partly of men appointed by the President and the remainder to be selected by the natives. Assurances should be given to the people that none but the most influential and intellectual cilizens would be selected for the judiciary and made members of the Governor's Cabinet.

He favored making their provinces into counties of Territories in this country and then a municipal government for the towns and cities, the oilies and control to be in the hands of the People, but at the same rights and their gibt to make such laws as it saw dit for the government of the islands.

"We must stay there," he said, "whether we want to or not. We have incerred to bligations that we cannot shirk. There is something due to our stability to stay there we have the responsibility whether we like it or not, and it is the height of folly to throw away the power we now have, We got it honorably by reason of the Spanish War."

Baron Von Holleben responded:

"I do not regret that, in seeking the representative university life of this country. I have to journey far and near. We thermans believe in decentralization of university life. We have no scientific Paris, and we not want one. As ferlin and Leipzig and Munich, Strassburg and Göttingen and Heidelberg are in coordinated competition in scholarship, it seems to me a sign of national health that Harvard and Chicago, Johns Hopkins and Columbia, Ann Arbor and Leband Sanford, Yale and Princeton, all work toward the highest ideals, and are not satisfied with anything but the best.

"Here, if I am not mistaken, the leading universities live in the conviction that the productive scholar alone is the best university teacher. They believe that the continuous contact with the student is an inspiration for the creative scholar, and that teaching by the pioneers of science gives to the student that higher intellectual attitude which is the noblest fruit of academic life. It is known over the world that Chicago, together with hiarvard and Johns Hopkins, are the leaders in the defence of this ideal."

Immediately following the evercises in Kent Theatre a reception was tendered to the official guest of the university at the Quadrangle Club.

tional Lengue Affairs. CLEVELAND, Jan. 24.-Many of the National League magnates are in this city or are expected to arrive here to-night. Those already here are J. T. Brush of Cincinnati, Eb-bets of Brooklyn and Soden of Boston. They have registered secretly at the Hollenden Hotel and the clerks deny their presence. From other attaches the rooms occupied by Ebbets and Brush were located. Brush was in a rage when he found he was dis-room, 329.

Brush later ordered his room changed and his name was removed from the rack. Frank De Hass Robison denied that the other magnates were present.

From a lengthy conversation, with him the fact was derived that as yet the Circuit Committee had named him no definite sum as a purchase price, also that the magnates were here to induce other parties to form a syndicate to buy the local call grounds and undertake to own an American League team here. On the price they can get for the ball grounds will depend largely the amount of money that will be paid to the Robisons. De Haas Robison seemed greatly satisfied with the developments and it is understood that matters have taken a turn to secure him more money for his franchise and grounds than he expected.

The secrecy is due to the fact that the magnates want it understood that the new local ball company has absolutely nothing to do with the old powers and is not formed at their suggestion. As a matter of fact the new company is being formed by the National League men. Up to 11 o'clock neither Hart of Chicago nor Puillam, both of whom are known to have started for here, could be located. John M. It leaked out this morning that a mun prominent in the Eastern League made a proposition a few days are to McGraw to become felentified with a team here to be placed in that circuit. It was not as a player or manager that McGraw was wanted, but he was to become "interested," so that his name could be used. He was requested to meet parties out of the city for discussion, or they would meet him here. McGraw declined all overtures.

Temporary President Quinn left for Washington shortly after noon to-day. He said that McGraw and Robinson had plainly stated their connection with the new movement. Quinn further said that the association will be organized in Philadelphia, but the date is still held under cover.
